The details above reflect the electronic record of your visa held by Immigration New Zealand (INZ). You do not require a visa label in your passport. Do not attempt to alter this letter. It is an offence under the Immigration Act 2009 to use a document that you know has been altered.

Please check that the above visa details match your passport before you travel and contact INZ immediately if there are any errors. If you are offshore, you may only enter New Zealand after the start date of your visa.

You may be asked to show this letter when you check in for your flight to New Zealand and/or when you arrive at the New Zealand border. If you cannot show this letter when asked, the airline may not let you board your flight or you may be delayed when entering New Zealand.

You can only hold one visa at a time. Any previous visa you held is now void and has been replaced by the visa referred to in this letter.

How can you prove your visa details without a visa label in your passport?

Your employer can verify the details of your visa online using VisaView. With your consent, other people or organisations such as health care providers or travel agents can verify the details of your visa using the Visa Verification Service. See: www.immigration.govt.nz/visaview.

Do you have a new passport?

If you get a new passport while this visa is still valid, you must request INZ to update your visa details so that they match your new passport. INZ's website has information on how to do this:

<https://www.immigration.govt.nz/new-zealand-visas/already-have-a-visa/transferring-my-visa-to-a-new-passport>

You must not remain in New Zealand after your visa expires

You must hold a valid visa while you are in New Zealand and depart New Zealand before it expires. If you remain in New Zealand after your visa expires, you will be unlawfully in New Zealand and liable for deportation. If you are deported from New Zealand, you cannot return until after any prohibition period and until you have paid any deportation costs. If you are unlawfully in New Zealand and depart before you are served with a deportation order, you may still be considered to have been deported, but you will not be subject to any prohibition period (although it may still affect the outcome of any future visas you apply for).

You may appeal against your liability for deportation on humanitarian grounds no later than 42 days after first being unlawfully in New Zealand. More information on how to appeal to the Immigration and Protection Tribunal is available at www.justice.govt.nz/tribunals/ipt.
